

Integration Maintenance with Merge

Merge offers a best in class integration maintenance solution.

Here's what you unlock with our platform.

What is integration maintenance?

Any activity your in-house development team performs on an integration that has already been built.

→ Experienced integration team

Partner engineers are on call 24/7 to ensure our integrations never impact your customer's experience.

Our team leverages subject matter expertise for each of our Unified APIs, on top of powerful internal tooling and API-best practices to build and maintain each of our integrations.

→ Battle-tested integrations

We have encountered and solved every edge case that can happen across hundreds of integrations thanks to our thousands of users making millions of API calls.

By utilizing our APIs, you leverage our library of battle-tested integrations.

→ Best-in-class support

Our customer success and solution engineering team are with you for every step of the integration cycle.

From implementation to ongoing support, proactive communication and collaboration consistently ranks us as a top-quality support provider.

"Merge's support is great and the support bot is very helpful. We've leveraged a lot of expertise from the Merge team about specific ATS integrations."

Hubert Liu
Grayscale CTO and co-founder

Merge helps you maintain integrations.

Merge is a single API that allows you to offer hundreds of customer-facing integrations. Even better? We handle all integration maintenance for you.