

Merge for Startups

Merge is the easiest way for startups to offer hundreds of integrations quickly and cost-effectively

Stop building and maintaining product integrations, and focus on what's important: your core product

Go to market faster

Accelerate your time-to-market by offering dozens of integrations across key software categories (HRIS, accounting, file storage, and more) in just days with Merge.

Never say “no” to a sales deal again because you don’t have a specific integration.

Flexible pricing

Merge offers discounted, custom pricing tailored to your company’s needs.

You can also get started for free on our Launch plan to validate your use case.

Save time and resources

Merge builds and maintains your integrations for you, removing the burden from your engineering team.

As you scale and add more integrations, Merge significantly reduces the engineering and support costs associated with integration development and maintenance.

Merge makes integrations easy

Learn why hundreds of startups use Merge to power their integrations and how our discounted pricing works by scheduling a demo with one of our integration experts.

“We’re trying to move extremely fast and deliver innovative, cutting-edge technology. Forcing our engineers to focus on integrations instead of our core product would compromise our ability to deliver on this goal.”
